Crash Kills Shelby Man; Youth Held

Farmer Fatally Injured

Galionite Says He Broke Sign

An 18-year-old Galion youth was held in county jail today in connection with the traffic death of Walter John Bigler, 58, of Shelby, R. D. 2, last night at Greter's Lake and Springmill road.

Bigler, Richland county farmed and telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania railroad in Crestline, was pronounced dead on arrival at General hospital shortly after he was thrown from his car by the impact. State highway patrolmen said Bigler was believed to have suffered a broken neck and crushed chest.

The native Richland countian was the fifth victim of traffic accidents in the county this year. Five were also killed in mishaps for the corresponding period last year.

BROKE OFF SIGN

James F. Stumpf, 18, Galion, R. D. 1, confessed, Deputy Sheriff Norman M. Smaltz said, that he manually twisted and broke off the stop sign at the intersection following the accident.

The sign, deputies said, recently had been replaced on Greter's Lake road near the intersection.

Deputies said Stumpf was operating a car, owned by John F. Stumpf, without a driver's license. He was held in county jail pending filing of charges by Prosecutor Theodore Lutz.

Mrs. Mary Bigler, 55, wife of the victim, was severely injured in the accident. She was reported in "fair" condition today at General hospital.

Dixie Dodd, 16, of Crestline, one of the seven youthful passengers in Stumpf's car, was taken to the hospital for observation and released.

OTHERS ESCAPE

Others in the Stumpf car who escaped injury along with the driver were: Rose Marie Sprague, 16, Shelby; and Crestline youths, Kenneth Long; 17, Richard E. Lewis, also 17; William Ball and Anthony Tridica, both 16.

Deputy Smaltz said the youngsters at first told him they did not see the stop sign at the intersection. This testimony was changed later when Stumpf confessed he broke off the sign, which had recently replaced a damaged sign.

According to deputies, the accident was reported by Mrs. Richard Beer, of the Lexington-Springmill road. Deputies said Stumpf was traveling east on the lake road and approached the intersection, colliding with Bigler's car which was headed north on the Springmill road.

THROWN IN DITCH

The impact, deputies said, threw the Bigler car in the ditch, hurling Bigler out on the road, then proceeded back to the road. The accident occurred about 10:30 p. m.

The victim had been a resident of Richland county for the past 50 years. He was a member of the First English Lutheran church of Mansfield.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; one son, Frank Levi Bigler of Lexington; one daughter, Miss Margaret Bigler of Shelby; his mother, Mrs. Dora Bigler of Shenandoah; two brothers, Ernest Bigler of Mansfield, and Charles Bigler of Lexington; three sisters, Mrs. Elmer Moser of Mansfield; Mrs. Fred Ludey of Youngstown; and Mrs. Vernon Wolford of Shenandoah; also two grandchildren.

The body has been removed to the Finefrock funeral home. Arrangements are being delayed pending the outcome of Mrs. Bigler's injuries.

Invasion By Locusts Due Here

Mansfield and Richland county can expect an invasion of 17-year locusts this spring or summer, Dr. T. H. Parks of Ohio State university said at Columbus today.

First Ohio assault by the winged destroyers was reported today, according to United Press, as the insects appeared in Vinton county. The Mansfield area is on the extreme western edge of the portion of Ohio where the locusts are expected.

The insects attack trees and shrubs and are especially destructive to orchards, Dr. Parks said. The invasion usually lasts about six weeks. Dr. Parks said that trees and shrubs can be safeguarded by covering with cheesecloth at the outset of the assault.

4 Killed In 3 Central Ohio Air Crashes

Cargo Plane Loses Rudder

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Four fliers were killed in three air accidents in Central Ohio yesterday.

W. R. McCaulley, Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Jack Raymond Foote, Chicago, both employed by Slick Airways, Inc., died in a crash of their twin-engined cargo plane in woods east of Port Columbus airport last night.

Earlier, two naval reserve fliers from the Columbus field—Lt. (JG) William G. Smith, 24, of Newark, O., and Lt. (JG) Theowore L. Meyer, 25, Columbus—crashed while on training flights. Both were navy fliers during World War II.

The cargo plane was en route from Newark, N. J., to Chicago with a shipment of women's and children's clothing. Shortly before 9 p. m. it radioed Port Columbus control tower that it had lost its rudder and was going to attempt a landing. Investigators said later, however, that the wreckage indicated the rudder was jammed, not lost.

The plane made two landing attempts before falling into the woods. The first time its wheels just missed the runway and the pilot brought it up for another try. The second time the wheels touched briefly but the pilot apparently felt it was traveling too fast and would hit a fence.

Witnesses said the plane flipped over on its back seconds after regaining altitude. It plunged almost straight down.

Flames began to lick at the fuselage, but field firemen put them out with foam equipment before they reached the pilots' compartment, but both men were dead in the cabin.

Blaze Hits Home Here

A fire of undetermined origin that broke out yesterday at 4:20 p. m. in the home of Dorothy Balliet, Fairfax avenue, destroyed most of the living room furniture and burned a hole in the floor of that room.

No one was at home when the blaze broke out. Firemen were summoned by neighbors who saw smoke coming from cracks in the doors and windows.

Firemen, who remained at the scene for more than an hour, reported that smoke filled the entire building. They said they believed the fire started on the floor, but that there was no way of determining its origin.

Early Sunday morning firemen from the Central station went to the home of John Dotterman, 222 Orange street, where a davenport had caught fire from an undetermined cause. Minor damage was reported.

Group Will Back Ohio Turnpikes

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The Ohio Turnpike committee said today legislation to permit building of self-supporting superhighways in Ohio will be introduced in the general assembly next session.

"For safety purposes alone Ohio needs four-lane, divided traffic super-highways," said Ernest M. Green of Cleveland, president of the committee.

Insurance Firm Founder Taken

In 1924 and 1925 he served as president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce. He was also former president of the Farmers Savings and Trust company and vice president of the Isaly Dairy corporations at Mansfield, Youngstown and Marion.

Polk's Death Investigated

SALONIKA — (INS) — Greek police and American embassy officials today launched an investigation into the slaying of CBS Radio Correspondent George Polk, 34, first American newsman to die in the Greek civil war.

Polk's body, his hands and legs tied and a bullet wound in his head, was found floating in Salonika harbor yesterday.

Police said that he had apparently attempted to arrange for the Greek underground to take him to see General Markos Vafthiades, communist guerrilla leader. He had been missing for a week.

A former navy flier who was cited for heroism, Polk had told friends he intended to journey to Markos' mountain headquarters for an exclusive interview. He was said to have left behind a letter for CBS executives stating this intention.

While declining to reveal the progress of the investigation, Greek police said that they were hunting communists whom Polk contacted to arrange the visit. It was believed that Polk had not actually begun the journey, since his camera, typewriter, shaving kit and other necessary travel equipment were still in his hotel room.

Packing Plant Again Open

ST. PAUL Minn. —(INS)—Employes streamed unmolested into the Swift meat packing plant at South St. Paul today.

Only seven striking CIO-United Packinghouse Workers pickets marched in front of the plant gates as the men and women drove through in cars or arrived on foot.

It was the first time since the nine-week-old strike started on March 16 that large numbers of workers had returned to work. Truck after truck of livestock also drove into the Swift plant.

Eniwetok Results Satisfactory

New Atom Weapons OK'd By U. S. Tests

BULLETIN

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The United Nations Atomic Energy commission decided today to end its two-year effort to agree on world atomic control. The vote was 9-2.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House said today tests involving three atomic weapons of improved design proved successful in all respects recently at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific.

The statement was made after the Atomic Energy commission gave President Truman an official report saying the results "indicate very substantial progress."

Chairman David E. Lilienthal and the four other commissioners reported orally to Truman that the "present stage of the commission's tests of atomic weapons is now concluded."

Lilenthal called the tests "a milestone in atomic development."

The White House statement follows:

"The president today received from the United States Atomic Energy commission a report on tests of Atomic weapons conducted at the commission's proving ground at Eniwetok atoll in the Marshall islands. The tests were held pursuant to approval of the president given in June, 1947. The first series of the tests are now completed.

10,000 MEN USED

"The commission reported that the tests involving three atomic weapons, each of improved design, was successful in all respects, and that the results indicate very substantial progress. The President gave general approval of commission plans for steps it proposed to initiate at once for further nuclear development, based upon information gained from the tests. . . ."

About 10,000 men were involved in the test, including military personnel, engineers, scientists and others.

UAW Chief Taken Home

DETROIT—(AP)—Walter Reuther was back home today from nearly a month in a hospital after surviving an apparent attempt on his life.

The red-haired president of the CIO United Auto Workers, who came home Sunday with a police escort, seemed his characteristic self except for his injury.

"And that can't be soon enough," he remarked in asserting he'd be back on his union job whenever his doctors permitted.

His maimed right arm, which a shotgun blast nearly tore from his body the night of April 20, was in a cast extending over the upper half of his body.

Doctors said he would be confined at home several weeks and that it might be ten months before the extent of the nerve injury to his arm could be determined.

Ford Pay Cut Plea Rejected

Chrysler Still Closed By Strike

BULLETIN

DETROIT — (INS) — Gov. Kim Sigler today ordered state police to the Highland Park plant of the Chrysler corporation after local police admitted they were unable to cope with picket line violence.

For the first time a major car manufacturer — Ford — asked its unionized workers to take, in effect, a wage cut.

The proposal, which met a tart CIO rejection, came against the backdrop of a major strike in the industry and a hint, if not a threat, of a second such walkout.

In one way or another, half a million car plant workers across the country were directly involved.

This was the immediate situation in the CIO United Auto Workers' portentous spring wage drive for a third postwar boost in pay:

1. The Ford Motor company, pleading a cause of "public security," proposed that its wage "differentials" with competitors be eliminated, meanwhile rejected the UAW's demand for a 30 cents hourly increase.

The bulk of Ford's 107,000 production workers probably would be affected in any reduction of pay rates. Ford's pay is said to be roughly about 10 cents higher than the pay of rival firms.

UNION SAYS 'NO'

The union, in a tart rejoinder, said "no," though offering to drop its wage demand if Ford would "successfully" exert its influence to secure a national price rollback to cut the cost of living.

2. The strike of 75,000 Chrysler workers for a 30 cents an hour increase entered its sixth day without a sign of a peace offering from either side.

3. An estimated 10,000 to 12,000 General Motors workers approved a strike for a 25 cents an hour increase. The UAW is currently polling its 175,000 GM members on the strike question.

Whatever the outcome, all the industry's 500,000 or more workers likely would be affected in establishment of any new wage pattern.

The effect on other industry might also be a pronounced one.

Rivals Ready For Debate

PORTLAND, Ore. —(INS)— New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen take opposite sides of the stump tonight in a crucial radio debate for Oregon's 12 residential delegates to the Republican National convention.

Stassen will uphold the affirmative and Dewey the negative in a nation-wide radio hook-up on the subject: "Shall the Communist party in the United States be outlawed?"

The broadcast is scheduled for 9 to 10 p. m. (EST).

Cost of Divorces Goes Up

It's going to cost more to get a divorce in Richland county. It's going to cost more, too, to get involved in legal difficulties such as a jury might be called upon to decide.

In fact, it's going to cost more just to consult with your lawyer.

A revised schedule of fees charged by lawyers for certain types of cases was announced today by Attorney Robert Lett, secretary of the Richland County Bar association.

It showed increased charges in some cases, including contested divorce actions, ranging upward to 50 per cent.

The new fee bill, approved by the bar association, supersedes one that had been in effect in Richland county since July 1944. It had been approved by most of the county's lawyers.

CHANGES LISTED

Major fee changes embodied in the new fee bill as announced today by Attorney Lett follows:

Trial of all cases (except in municipal court), raised from $75 to $100 per day.

Trial of cases in municipal court, raised from $15 to $25.

Uncontested divorce actions, raised from $75 to $100.

Contested divorce actions, raised from $100 to $150.

The following minimum rates were announced:

Bankruptcy proceedings, raised from $100 to $150.

Drawing of a deed or mortgage, raised from $3 to $5.

Consultations, raised from $2 to $3.

Attorney Lett said that charity cases would be handled on the usual basis, wherein persons unable to pay legal fees but badly in need of services, would be helped free of charge.

Heavy Hail Misses City

After ending a nearly perfect Sunday with a loud and wet thunderstorm that deluged the area in nearly nine-tenth of an inch of rain, the weatherman predicted today that tonight and tomorrow would be fair and cooler.

The weather forecaster at Columbus reported that a rain condition similar to the one last year is shaping up, causing alarm for farmers in the area north of Columbus who reported spring planting was being delayed.

Heavy hail fell in areas north of Mansfield last night and some light hail was reported in Mansfield proper. Total rainfall as reported by the airport weather bureau was .86 inch.

The sky became dark just after sundown and the storm moved over the area from the northwest. The thunder and lighting lasted for nearly two hours, stopping around 11 p. m.

The mercury, which climbed to 74 at 5 p. m. yesterday, was pulled down by the storm, dropping to 50 degrees at 3:30 a. m. It had only climbed two degrees by 10:30 a. m. today as rain fell intermittently.

Frog Jumping Contest Won By Heliotrope

ANGELS CAMP, Cal —(INS)—Heliotrope, who until Saturday night resided happily in a creek near Angels Camp, is the prize jumping frog of the year.

Heliotrope—blessed for more still unknown reason with the name of a small, purple flower—won first honors in the traditional Angels Camp jumping frog contest yesterday with a combined leap of 11 feet, five inches.

He was owned by a syndicate known as the "Frog corporation," headed by a University of California pre-medical student, Bill Follette of Berkley. The syndicate, a group of California students, captured Heliotrope in a creek near Murphys, Calif., Saturday night.

They are now $200 richer in first prize money for their frog hunting expedition but they failed to win the $1,000 added prize offered to the owner of any frog breaking the world's record leap of 16 feet, five inches.

Arabs Get Jerusalem 'Old City'

Vital Power Station Seized

CAIRO—(AP)—The Arab Higher Executive committee said today Egyptian troops have driven within 30 miles of Tel Aviv after an advance of at least 34 miles into Palestine.

The office said also the Jewish agency has authorized the surrender of Jews in the old city of Jerusalem to the Arab volunteer command.

The "conditions of surrender" provide the Jews give up their arms, that men be considered prisoners of war and that women and children be handed over to the International Red Cross, it said.

The Arabs claimed also to have seized the Rutenburg power station at the confluence of the Yarmuk and Jordan rivers. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan asserted the station supplied two-thirds of Jewish industry in Palestine.

Arab volunteers were reported to have captured the Lydda airport, inside Israel territory less than 10 miles from Tel Aviv.

Egyptian foreign minister Ahmed Khashaba Pasha said his government has received no official notification about recognition of Israel.

"When any such notification reaches us, the Egyptian government will base its reply in international law," he said.

Weizmann Named President of Israel

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, 73-year-old scientist and statesman, today accepted election as the first president of the council of government of Israel.

Weizmann, who is ill and unable to leave his apartment at the hotel Waldorf-Astoria here, said in a statement he accepted the election "in a humble spirit" and he was "deeply grateful."

The statement added "I pray that the struggle forced upon us will speedily end and will be succeeded by an era of peace, development and prosperity for the people of Israel and those who are waiting to join us in the construction and advancement of the new state.

"I regret that at this moment I am not with our people, but my thoughts and prayers are especially with those who are bearing the brunt and sacrifice of Israel's defense.

"The future of Israel will not be unworthy of those who have fallen. Zion shall be redeemed in justice."

Jews Launch Attack To Open Supply Line

TEL AVIV —(UP)— Jewish forces launched a fierce attack today on an Arab town of 20,000 only nine miles from Tel Aviv in a drive to reopen the vital highway to Jerusalem

The attack on Ramleh township, which dominates the vital supply line to the 100,000 Jews in the Holy City was made by Irgun Zvai Leumi extremist units who only recently have been incorporated into the Jewish army.

The Jewish army communique which told of the attack on Ramleh also claimed Jewish capture of the town of Nabi Yusha, on the Lebanon border about seven miles north of Safad, and said that three Syrian armored cars were captured when an attack by Syrian regulars on the town of Zemah, south of Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee, was repulsed

Strike Halts Lake Tankers

CLEVELAND —(UP)— Twelve Great Lakes oil tankers were tied up at widely scattered ports today after crewmen walked off to protest the threatened loss of National Maritime union hiring halls, a union spokesman said.

Only one NMU manned tanker, the Paratex of the Gulf Oil Company fleet, continued to sail under a separate agreement. Three tankers manned by members of the AFL seafarers' union not involved in the dispute, also operated normally today.

Crews of the idle ships began quietly walking off Friday when the first vessels touched port.

BANDITS SOUGHT

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Law enforcement officers throughout Ohio searched today for bandits who held up more than 15 persons for about $3,000 in the Plain City American Legion hall Saturday night.

'Men of Erie' Contest For Pupils Opens

Money Trouble Besets Early Builders

EDITOR'S NOTE Following is the first chapter in a serialization of "Men of Erie." Five more chapters of the absorbing story of the founding of the Erie railroad will appear in The News-Journal this week. On the basis of this serialization, pupils of Mansfield Senior High and the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades of Madison High school may write an essay of 1,000 words or less in the News-Journal's "Men of Erie" contest. One boy and one girl will be chosen as winners. The prize is an all-expense tour to New York this summer. Deadline for entries is May 28.

CHAPTER I

While DeWitt Clinton hardly could be reckoned as a founder of the Erie, it was this great governor of the State of New York who had much to do with the inception of the road. He was the father of the mighty water-highway, the Erie canal.

Only crusty old John Stevens had the audacity to poke fun at the governor and his canal scheme. He was an engineer of renown, and, in 1826, he built and operated a tiny toy-like steam locomotive on the grounds of his estate. In opposition to DeWitt Clinton he said that, at less cost, he could build a railroad across New York state which would transport freight and passengers more cheaply than any canal.

While this old squabble of more than a century ago is now buried, the basis for it plagued the budding railroad for years . . . concept, route, backing and construction.

The idea of a direct through route from the lower Hudson to the Great Lakes would not die. William C. Redfield did his best to make it come true. In 1809 he moved out into the Western Reserve, and his detailed diary of the trip led him to plan definitely for a direct railroad into western New York and northern Ohio. He was only a boy of twenty at the time. He returned to New York and became a successful merchant there, but his enthusiasm for a railroad never flagged. Boldly, he came out for it in a year when the Iron Horse barely had been foaled. The "Stourbridge Lion" was timidly turning its wheels at Honesdale, Pa., the first locomotive in America.

Taft Leads In Pledged Delegates

Most Citizens of Free Countries Prefer Not to Listen to Truth

IT WOULD be good for the republic if the citizens would never forget the truth about the human race or "the people" generally. We have had so much flattery in our diet, we of the more or less free countries, that we have developed an allergy for truth. It makes us break out in spots, lose our temper and do things at the polls which are very bad for us.

Roosevelt called the people "my friends" and often said in his confidential manner, of a tail-board professor selling pills to restore lost youth, "you know and I know —."

It gave him the power of a snake-charmer's flute, although he was beyond doubt a supercilious snob, which is a far different thing from a man of quality who honestly knows that he is superior to those before him and exhibits his superiority all the time.

A TRUE ARISTOCRAT WOULD NEVER fawn upon the people and pretend to regard them as his equals. That man would be a snob and there you have the difference between Roosevelt and, shall I say, Senator Taft? We have not many aristocrats, but Taft is one. For that reason he is incapable of truckling to the ignorance, bigotry and greed of the entire population but limits himself to a dignified offer to serve them as president. It is more their opportunity than his. He is not a super-man but just a superior fellow. But even though the people know this they would nevertheless prefer a man who would claim to be a super-man and yet just one of the plain people — a super-man, like them.

A few weeks ago a "poll" conducted by a private concern arrived at the conclusion that Eleanor Roosevelt was a great woman. The reasons supporting this mass opinion were not stated in detail and I am guilty of carelessness in suggesting that reason played any part in it.

It was, however, no more convincing or complimentary to the subject than the frantic adulation of the Germans for Hitler and of the Italians for Mussolini. Like Eleanor the Great, these two mountebanks aroused in their followers self-pity and self-esteem that were unjustified and, in the long run, very bad for them.

They were neither as put-upon nor as virtuous as their leaders told them they were. Their woes were, in large part, fairly earned by their own defects and culpable failures and, for the rest, were just the rub of the green in life

We, in the United States, we, the people, that is, ridiculed them for their stupid inconsistency, in believing that they were warriors and yet submitting to nocturnal terrors from the goons; in believing that they were of the master race when they were incapable of independent thought on anything, and that destiny, or God, had sent Der Fuehrer and Il Duce to guide them to some glorious place in the history of man.

AT THE SAME TIME IN OUR country, under similar magic wrought by Eleanor's husband, millions of Americans, those salty, shrewd and doughbty fellows, were banded together in a truly heroic war against the hired thugs of corporate greed and, at the same time, running like rats from the pickets of the early C.I.O. Those pickets suddenly appeared in a hundred of our industrial cities, coming from nowhere in the night like the brown shirts and the black — nameless, hard-faced strangers wearing brassards or fore-and-aft caps with piping on them.

Senior Class Urged To Choose Carefully

Madison high school's 70 graduating seniors were told last night that small choices can set the pattern of their lives. They were urged to consider carefully in making their choices.

Pointing to the life of Lot, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, told the seniors that Lot had a splendid beginning in life but that he came to a tragic end.

He spoke at baccalaureate services held in the church. His topic was "Setting Life's Direction."

Rev. Mitchell based his sermon on three sentences out of Lot's life. The first was: "Then Lot chose himself all the plain of Jordan."

He said Lot's uncle, Abraham, called him and asked him what land he wanted.

"Lot chose the low ground," Rev. Mitchell said. "That was the first step that led to corruption in Lot's life. Lot was interested only in his own material self-interest. Lot chose the plain of Jordan because that would make him the most money.

'WHY NOT!'

"Lot was smart. Business is business. If Abraham chose to be an easy mark, well, why not!

"A man who makes a choice on that basis," Rev. Mitchell continued, "chooses the low ground.

"In choosing your life's work," he told the graduates, "you can do as Lot did. Say to yourself: What can I do to make the most money? Or you can say: I will choose the work that I will enjoy the most."

The second sentence Rev. Mitchell quoted was: "And Lot pitched his tent toward Sodom."

The pastor said: "When once a man chooses a low country the die is cast. Sodom has stood for everything that is degrading and immoral. Lot found that the low ground slopes and the gravity takes man lower.

'CAN'T ESCAPE'

"Once you consent to lower your standards you're on a toboggan slide. You can't escape it."

Rev. Mitchell said men in the penitentiary started out on the chance of making a little easy money. "But once they got on the toboggan slide they couldn't get off." He said "the devil is the line of least resistance."

Rev. Mitchell said the third sentence was: "And they took Lot who dwelt in Sodom and all his goods and departed."

He said the border line of the city of evil is a very dangerous place to live. "It leads to a way of life that you can't escape if you want. Don't lower your standards to live on the outskirts of the city of evil."

Poll Puts Dewey In 2nd Place

Stassen Rated As Weak Third

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio holds a sturdy lead today in pledged delegates to the Republican presidential convention, now five weeks away.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is a strong second with Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota running behind in third place.

A poll by International News Service shows the first ballot strength of the "big three" in the GOP race to be:

Taft, 301 delegates; Dewey, 256 delegates; Stassen, 134 delegates.

Republican followers of "dark horse" possibilities and "favorite son" candidates now hold the balance of power in the June 21 convention. There are no signs, however, of any concerted move by these groups either to one of the "big three" or to one of their own number.

With "favorite sons" eliminated, Taft will gain more delegates than either Dewey or Stassen but will still remain far short of the nomination. The INS poll shows that with "favorite sons" out of the way, the "big three" would have:

This indicates there will be a deadlock in the early balloting at the convention.

Stassen has made some slight gains in recent weeks against both Taft and Dewey but he has aroused widespread animosities in so doing. Both Taft and Dewey leaders say they will never consent to Stassen's nomination. This sentiment badly handicaps the efforts of Stassen's leaders to gain second choice pledges if Taft and Dewey are beaten.

MIGHT LINK FORCES

There has been much talk of Taft and Dewey "getting together" on a "dark horse" if they cannot win the nomination. There has been no move yet in this direction but it is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts lead the "dark horse" field. In the background are Gov. Earl Warren of California and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

There are some signs that Pennsylvania may hold the key to the "dark horse" decision, if the "big three" deadlock the convention.

Numerous Pennsylvania leaders have said that the state's 73 delegates would go to Speaker Martin after a few "favorite son" ballots for their senator, Edward Martin.

In recent weeks, there have been rumors that Pennsylvania might prefer Senator Vandenberg. Either way, the Pennsylvania delegation would give its preferred "dark horse" a terrific boost.

On the other hand, a Pennsylvania bolt to Taft would about settle the outcome. A similar move to Dewey could well start a stampede that would end in the New Yorker's nomination.

Bing, Diz Win Golf 'Abes'

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Byron Nelson, Bing Crosby, Babe Didrikson, Dizzy Dean and Navy Secretary Sullivan possessed "Abes" today which they won in the Washington Post's second annual national celebrities golf tournament.

The trophies are miniatures of the Abraham Lincoln statue in the Lincoln memorial. The tournament was held in a downpour Sunday at the Columbia Country club.

Nelson, former open champion, shot a three under pary 67 to edge out Gene Sarazen and win the professional group title.

Crosby and Dean tied with 76's for the "celebrities championship," not open to pros, while Babe Didrikson brought in a 75 to lead the women's division.

SULLIVAN WON the "official Washington" division with a 79. He defeated such officials as Sens. Robert Taft, Scott Lucas and William Fulbright; Reps. George Smathers and Les Arends, Secretary of the Army Royall and Chief of Staff Gen. Bradley.

Margaret Truman, daughter of the president and Mrs. Truman, Barbara Ann Scott, Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen, Anita Colby and others participated as scorers or competitors.

Five thousand persons attended the tournament despite the rain. Proceeds will go to children's charities.

Spring Sports Arranged At Loop Meeting

Tentative arrangements for spring sports carnivals were made yesterday at a meeting of the Northern Ohio sports league in Canton.

Athletic directors of the league schools laid the groundwork for spring competition in track, baseball, golf and tennis. Travel restrictions will prohibit the league schools from playing full schedules in the four sports.

However, Augie Morningstar, league president, said that a big week-end spring carnival will be staged starting in 1950 to determine all champions.

RELAYS ARE PATTERN

The track tourney will be patterned after the Mansfield Relays with the baseball and tennis competition on an elimination basis. Golf will be a medal play affair.

Travel will also restrict basketball play but the league officials hope to arrange a series of cage carnivals over the Christmas holidays to pick a court champion.

Football is the only league sport where a full schedule will be played. Grid schedules for the seven-team league will begin in 1949.

A temporary charter was drawn up at yesterday's meeting. Final approval of the charter is scheduled June 6.

Five of the seven schools attended the meeting. They were Mansfield, Massillon, Steubenville, Warren Harding and Toledo Waite. Canton McKinley and Alliance did not attend.

Fourteen Teams In Ohio Golf Meet

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Fourteen golf teams from 12 Ohio colleges teed off today at the Ohio State University course here in the 36-hole Ohio Intercollegiate Golf tournament.

Teams taking part in the tourney, the first since 1941, are Ohio State, University of Cincinnati, Miami University, Otterbein, Bowling Green, Kent State (Canton Branch), Kent State, Dayton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio Wesleyan, Denison and Marietta.

Cleveland Splits Pair Of Contests

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Manager Lou Boudreau, who only recently was looking for "just one more starting pitcher," came up today with not just one, but two.

Rookie southpaw Gene Bearden banished some of the sorrow from the Cleveland Indians' chief with a couple of masterful hurling jobs on the Tribe's first eastern swing.

NOT MUCH CHEER

Other than Kennedy's performance, Lou had little to be cheerful about. Although he made four straight hits in the nightcap, he was booed soundly by the fans on each trip to the plate, and still more when he sent Kennedy to the showers in the eighth inning.

The reason for the Bronx cheers was Boudreau's weird strategy in the opener, which Cleveland eventually lost, 6-4, in 10 innings.

In that contest, Boudreau removed both Pat Seerey and Allie Clark, each of whom previously had hit a home run, for pinch-hitters in the crucial ninth and tenth innings, to top it off, Boudreau, himself, hit into a double play to end the game.

The finale was a different story, however.

Ken Keltner, Joe Gordon and Eddie Robinson each blasted four-masters as the Tribe pounded out an easy win. Keltner now has hit 12 home runs so far this season, one more than his entire 1947 production.

The homers counted for four runs, and Boudreau figured heavily in the other five.

GET THREE RUNS

Cleveland scored three times in the first inning Thurman Tucker, Larry Doby and Boudreau opened with successive singles. Gordon grounded out and Keltner cleared the sacks with a ringing double.

Cleveland scored twice more in the fourth to sew up the game on a double by Jim Hegan, a pair of walks and a couple of infieldouts.

Kennedy, a former Akron resident, held the Sox to just one hit in the first seven innings, but weakened in the eighth, giving up Chicago's only two runs. Steve Gromek was called on to finish the contest.

LEAD BY FOUR

In the opener, Cleveland led, 4-0, going into the seventh, but the fast finishing Sox scored once in the seventh, three times in the eighth and finished off the Tribe with two more in the tenth.

Cleveland scored twice in each the fourth and fifth frames. Seerey accounted for two runs with his first home run of the season. Clark added the third and a double and a single by Robinson and Gordon, respectively, counted for the fourth.

Starter Bob Lemon was touched for seven hits in his seven-inning stint, however, and finally gave way to Russ Christopher in the eighth. Christopher was the eventual loser.

Bearden, second newly-found hurler, was to try his wares again tomorrow night against the high-flying Philadelphia Athletics in the opener of a three-game series.

Oldster Takes Place On Olympic Squad

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Ernie Crosbie, 38, of Baltimore, had his place on the American Olympic 50-kilometer walking team clinched today.

Crosbie easily won the combined Olympic final try-out and the AAU 50(0)-meter walking championship, making the 31-mile, 125-yard course in five hours, four minutes and 30 seconds.

Cardinal Southpaws Put Club In Lead; Cincinnati Outslugs Chicago, 13 to 11

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The comeback of Howie Pollet, the consistent brilliance of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen and the remarkable relief hurling of Alpha Brazle are responsible for the St. Louis Cardinals' lofty perch in the National League pennant race.

The Redbirds were in first place today, one full game in front of the New York Giants. They have won 13 and lost seven. Of this total, Pollet, Brecheen and Brazle—best left-handed trio in the majors—have won nine and lost one. That means the righthanded members of St. Louis' pitching staff have won only four and lost six, a .400 percentage.

After a slow start, Pollet has rebounded with three straight victories. The New Orleans lefty was credited with yesterday's 6-5 10-inning victory over the Pirates for his second win in three days. He halted a ninth inning rally after the Buds had tied the game with two runs, then became the winning pitcher when the Cards tallied once in the bottom half of the tenth.

Brecheen has won all of his four starts, the first three by shutouts.

Brazle has appeared in four games, all in relief. The Cards won three of them with Brazle gaining credit for two. He was charged with one loss. Brazle was one of the four hurlers used by Dyer in yesterday's win.

Two were out when Ralph Lapointe singled off Hal Gregg in the 10th for the Cards. Terry Moore followed wth a high pop fly which dropped into left-center field, and Lapointe raced in all the way from first with the winning run.

In the only other National league game played, the Cincinnati Reds came up with two runs in the top of the 10th to outscramble the Cubs in Chicago, 13-11.

Although they pounded out five home runs, the Cleveland Indians could do no better than gain a split in their doubleheader with Chicago. The White Sox won the opener, 6-4, in 10 innings and the Indians captured the nightcap, 9-2.

WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox won their first straight by coming from behind to outslug the Washington Senators, 14-5. The second game of the scheduled twin bill was postponed by rain.

The St. Louis Browns nipped the Tigers in Detroit, 3-2, in the finale of their three-game series.

The scheduled doubleheader at Philadelphia between the New York Giants and Phillies was postponed by rain after the Phils had taken a 1-0 lead with the Giants batting in the third inning. The Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Braves were in the midst of a scoreless deadlock at Ebbetts field when rain arrived in the second inning to wash away the game.

Mansfield Taverns Drop First Game of Year, 7-6

GREENWICH—Mansfield T and E Tavern was handed its first defeat of the season here yesterday, but Greenwich had to score two runs in the last half of the twelfth inning to turn the trick, 7 to 6.

The Taverns had tallied in the top of the twelfth when Joe Siweck got his second double of the day and Loren Tischer singled him home. Two hits, two stolen bases, and an error cost the Taverns the game in the bottom half of the inning.

Jack Heston went the entire route for the Taverns but seven errors by his mates cost him a well-deserved victory. He fanned seven.

Clifford Webb and Loren Tischer each had two singles and Siweck a pair of two-baggers for Mansfield.

Veteran Racing Driver Killed In '500' Trial Spin

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Ralph Hepburn, crippled and scarred veteran of 30 years auomobile and motorcycle racing, was killed yesterday when his car crashed into a wall at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Hepburn crashed into a concrete retaining wall with the Novi Special he had driven faster than any other car that ever roared around the two-and-a-half-mile track.

Most of the estimated crowd of 40,000 could not see what happened because of infield trees. But Luigi Chinetti of Milan, Italy, only foreign driver at the track, said Hepburn's car wavered, hit the infield dirt, and then swerved back across the track.

Lou Welch of Novi, Mich., owner of the Hepburn car, said no attempt would be made to repair it for this year's race, May 31.

Mansfield Grays Top Lorain, 10-4

The Mansfield Grays, whose batting punch had heretofore been comparatively weak, broke out in a rash of hits yesterday as they trounced the Lorain Chicks, 10-4.

Playing before a good turnout at Blue Goose park, the Grays clubbed out 15 base knocks, including three doubles and a triple. Bob Bogantz led the way with three singles in five trips.

Don Fought turned in a fancy hurling job until relieved for Pinch-hitter Merle Leedy in the seventh inning. Leedy tripled and then finished the game in the box. Fought had given up only three hits, fanned eight, and walked six.

Red Hamman, Dick Burton and Fought each notched two hits. The Grays will practice at 5 p. m. Thursday according to Manager Lefty Deeds.

Senior High To Play For Meet Crown

Thanks to today's rain, Mansfield Senior high will be host to a twin sports carnival again tomorrow while a third Tyger team will be in action elsewhere.

Wet grounds forced postponement of today's district baseball finals between the Bengals and Willard, while the Tyger trackmen already were booked to be host to Columbus East tomorrow afternoon. Both will get under way at 4 p. m., the baseball at Blue Goose and the track at Stadium field.

Should they get past Willard tomorrow, Senior high will face Columbus Central at 12:30 p. m. Friday in the regional joust at Bowling Green. The Ada and Toledo winners, yet to be decided, will meet at 10:30 with the finals being played off at 3:30 the same afternoon. State tournament semi-finals will be held in Columbus May 21 and 22.

FINAL DUAL MEET

The last meet will be the final dual meet of the season for Senior high. The Tygers have been defeated once in five dual meets, and are fresh from a top-heavy victory in last Saturday's district meet here.

The Senior high golf team will also be in action tomorrow, traveling to Norwalk for a return engagement with a team it defeated earlier in the season.

John Simpson junior high school and the Ashland reserves were scheduled to run off a dual track meet at Stadium field at 3:30 p. m. today.

Yanks, Cards Still Clubs to Beat

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Yankees and Cardinals are the teams to beat for the Indians and Athletics in the American and practically everybody but the Reds in the National are going to bear plenty of watching appeared today after [illegible] of Major league competition.

The first [illegible] is that there will be [illegible] races.

The National [illegible] particularly looks [illegible] with the edge, if any, [illegible] to the Cardinals if they [illegible] first line strength together.

The Giants are [illegible] terrific hitting, fine [illegible] play and better pitching than expected and must be given [illegible] consideration. The Braves [illegible] excellent pitching and [illegible] a nifty infield, but the [illegible] is slow for a pennant [illegible] the Dodgers should get [illegible] ly but dissension, [illegible] experimenting and [illegible] ing have held them [illegible]

The Pirates are the [illegible] team and will [illegible] the way with their [illegible] pitching staff and capable players

bartered and bought from other clubs. The Phils have plenty of zip, occasionally good pitching and solid hitting. Charley Grimm is getting a lot of help from his rookies with the Cubs, but the Reds just don't have it, even with Ewell Blackwell the ace pitcher.

The Yankees despite Saturday's double defeat by the astonishing Athletics, still look and act like champs. The Athletics can't be laughed off with what looks to be the best pitching staff in baseball and good, solid punch. The Indians and their home run mania must be reckoned with, though the pitching beyond Bob Feller and Bob Lemon isn't strong.

The Red Sox, off to a slow start in which poor hitting and spotty pitching held them back, are improving and should get better. The Browns are a lively club, interesting to watch, one that makes mistakes but which will be more troublesome than last year's sad assemblage. The Tigers are the disappointment of the season. Washington is okay when it gets good pitching but strictly mediocre on days when it doesn't. The White Sox undoubtedly are the worst club in both leagues.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

North Italy Industries Lean on Aid

ERP Won't Make Vital Change

By EARL J. JOHNSON

MILAN, ITALY — (UP) — The men who run the factories in Northern Italy have had outside help for so long that they have come to take it for granted. For that reason America's huge European recovery program is not the shot in the arm an American visitor might expect to find in this region.

The big need here after the war was coal. That important item has been supplied mainly by the United States since the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration and is not a new element in the industrial picture. America's ERP will keep coal coming and steel is expected to be more plentiful, too.

Industrialists have assumed all along that these supplies would be provided and have made their plans accordingly.

If ERP ended suddenly, the howls of pain from Northern Italy could be heard all the way to the plains of Lombardy. But the recovery program has been underwritten by Congress and industrialists here now base their optimism on a new and more important development, namely the fact that at long last Italy appears to have a stable government.

The defeat of the communists in the national elections last month and the setting up of a firm administration this week by Premier Alcide De Gasperi has been a great tonic for factory owners. Their trade unions are dominated by communists and if the commies had gained a voice in government the industrialists would have been discouraged.

Now they seem more willing to plow their own private fortunes back into their businesses instead of relying almost entirely on government financing as they did during the recent period of political uncertainty.

You hear talk of full production within a year. But full production in the automobile and chemical factories of Italy doesn't mean mass production on a scale comparable to mass production by factories in Detroit or St. Louis. Latins do not drive themselves or their machines the way Americans do. Factories shut down frequently for church holidays. Italy has an uncommonly large number of these.

The standard work week is six days at six and one-half hours a day. This is called a 40-hour week. But scarcely a month passes without several fiestas.

Another thing that may not be generally recognized about Italian industry is the amount of control the government has over it. Except for those in Russia, the industries of Italy are the most thoroughly nationalized in the world. Through an Italian version of America's reconstruction finance corporation (it is called Iri here for the institute of reconstruction of industry) and through other agencies the government now controls 60 per cent of Italian industry.

Horoscope

For Tuesday, May 18.

While there are excellent auguries for the accomplishment of cherished ambitions, or the attainment of major objectives, both near and far, yet it will require some very serious thinking, sustained by adroit manipulation and clever strategies, in order to meet certain irregularities, problems or want of cooperation from promised and needed sources. The mentality may be found keyed to such astute insight, sufficient to win over attention and practical aid from desired quarters. Plan and organize for this on a long-term basis for solid foundations.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to make close observation of current irregular disintegrating, uncertain and unpredictable situations, which threaten to upset promising conditions or nullify sound techniques already set in motion. Strange developments may alienate those in high places already interested and committed to long-range pledges.

The mind is keyed to shrewd, clever and brilliant insight on such perplexities, to be prudently and tactfully put in operation.

A child born on this day may run into antagonistic and confining situations, but its keen and astute mentality may bridge such difficulties and gain attention from influential sources.

Steel Pipe, Sawdust, and Brine Needed

Workers Build Ice Floor For Show

How will they get ice in the Coliseum for the ice show?

Boris Petroff's "Hollywood on Ice" revue has the answer. It's steel pipe, seven tons of fine sand and sawdust and brine.

The whole operation takes approximately 10 hours of work and workmen plan to arrive three days before the May 28 opening of the show to start the process.

All heavy equipment necessary for building the ice rink is carried by the show, but basic materials and manpower will be provided here.

First phase of the process is covering the floor with a waterproof base upon which 12,844 feet of steel pipe is laid. Space between the pipes will then be leveled with seven tons of fine sand and sawdust.

BRINE SOLUTION USED

As the pipes are installed, the condenser starts lowering the temperature of a brine solution. When the solution is less than eight degrees fahrenheit it is started through the pipes, or coils, by a booster pump.

After the coils and sand are thoroughly chilled, water will be sprinkled lightly on it with a garden hose. As the top surface congeals, more water is added until a firm skating surface is formed.

When the show is over the ice comes out much faster. Workmen break the surface with picks and toss the chunks into a truck which hauls the used man-made ice away.

JANE ARLEN stars in 'Hollywood on Ice,' which opens a six-day engagement in Mansfield on May 28.

Thanks to you good people of Mansfield
For the kind response you accorded us on our opening evening. You came, you saw, and you heartily congratulated us. As you know, our store was literally crowded the entire evening.
And too, many thanks for the floral decorations sent by our Business Associates —they were grand.
Thanks a million to the boys of the Central Fruit Co., who gave so generously of their time and energy in arranging our stock.
Again, may we repeat, Thank You Kindly.

Cut Federal Spending, Asks C. of C.

Tax Reduction Program Favored

COLUMBUS — (ANS) — The Ohio Chamber of Commerce asserted today that there must be substantial slashes in non-essential federal expenditures if the recent federal tax reduction is to be retained and any new relief obtained.

Chamber President C. I. Weaver made the statement in releasing a long-range federal tax-reduction program which he said was ready for presentation to Congress.

"The program," said Weaver, "emphasizes federal finances as a whole, rather than federal taxes alone. The Ohio Chamber recognizes the inseparable relation between tax revenue and government expenditures."

The program advocates eventual reduction of personal income tax rates to 15 per cent, or less, at the starting point. In the top bracket, the limit would be 50 per cent while the eventual reduction of maximum corporation income tax rates would be reduced from 38 to 32 per cent and later to 25 per cent or less.

The recommendations were based, Weaver said, upon the need and opportunity for further substantial reduction of federal expenditures.

The Chamber's program calls for reduction of the federal budget to a 25-billion-dollar level, together with the retirement of the national debt at the rate of at least two and one-half billions a year.

The chamber declared that "the key to lower taxes, debt reduction, and economic progress through private enterprise is a substantially lower federal budget."

McGregor Urges Forced Registration of Communists

Declares Recognition 'Regretted'

Shelby Woman Heads Auxiliary

CRESTLINE—Forced registration as communists of all persons who have "pledged allegiance to the Soviet Union," was urged yesterday by Rep. J. Harry McGregor.

The 17th district congressman spoke at the district convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here.

"There is nothing wrong with the Mundt bill," he said. "It merely forces communists to register as would members of any other political party."

In an interview before his address, McGregor said he believed President Truman's action in recognizing the new Jewish State of Israel "was to be regretted" because the president once again bypassed the United Nations. The congressman said he felt any action on the Palestine question should come from Lake Success.

'WOULD MEAN WAR'

Asked if the thought the United States should lift the embargo on arms shipments to Palestine, McGregor's only reply was: "It would mean war."

McGregor devoted his talk to a discussion of communism. Asking where the American people are going and what they are going to do, he answered by saying, "We can only be great by being solidified."

"No individual congressman or group of congressmen can stop communism," he said. "The germ of communism has spread throughout the nation . . It has gone into some of the labor unions and even into some of the churches."

HITS SECRET PACTS

McGregor said that two things are necessary if we are to continue to be a great nation. We must stop the communistic trend and we must not make secret commitments that the people do not know about.

"Russia has only taken what was agreed upon at Yalta," he said.

In closing, he said that we must make peace with our neighbors. "As long as individuals fight among themselves, what more can we expect from nations?"

The national championship band of Fostoria post 421 gave a short concert before the joint meeting at 2 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Other speakers included Mayor Albert Sonner of Crestline and Major Robert Hall of the U.S. Army Air Corps in Mansfield.

Major Hall, speaking on "I Am An American Day,' said that "We citizens . . . have a sacred trust to ensure that this government shall never perish from the earth."

Continuing he said "Rome endured as long as there were Romans. America will endure as long as we remain American in spirit and in thought. We must resolve to keep the torch of liberty burning brightly so that we may proudly say, 'I Am An American'."

Nearly 100 women attended a meeting of the auxiliary in the Youth Center building in the morning.

New officers are Marjorie Koons of Shelby, president; Mildred Carper of Ashland, senior vice president; Dorothy Beetel of Marion, junior vice president; Genevieve Spore of Ashland, chairman; Eleanor Williams of Bucyrus, conductress; Mary Gelvin of Galion, inside guard; Alberta Fleiner of Galion, outside guard.

The new president will appoint her district officers at a later meeting.

The Crestline auxiliary was cited for the largest net gain of members in the district. It made a gain of 20 members.

Mrs. Wenninger presented corsages to all her district officers.

Stock Prices Slip After Trading Rally Loses Frenzy

NEW YORK —(AP)— Stock prices turned down today and the pace of recent trading days lost much of its frenzy.

Prices steadied as trading slowed down near noon, but were mostly below Saturday's close.

Traders, eager to turn the paper profits of last week into cash, sent in a flood of overnight orders that put the ticker tape behind in a fast first hour, which saw some 690,000 shares change hands. This could not hold a candle to Saturday's opening hour of 1,220,000 shares.

Under the profit-taking mass most leading stocks turned downward. The later rally was led by the rails, which were the first to firm and regain part of the early losses. Many of the less active issues held to the upward course started last week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 4/10 at noon.

Volume for the first two hours was 1,270,000 shares, compared with the 2,590,000, in Saturday's two-hour session, and Friday's first two-hour total of 1,090,000.

Two Women Placed On Probation

Robert C. Mason, 36, today was sentenced to not more than seven years in the Ohio State penitentiary on his plea of guilty to making and printing obscene pictures and to a second count of selling the pictures.

Two others involved were placed on probation by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch. Both pleaded guilty. Mason's wife, Hazel, 42, was placed on probation for five years an a charge of making and printing obscene pictures.

Mrs. Edithgene Church, 23, was placed on probation for four years on a charge of making and printing obscene pictures and on a second count of selling the pictures.

'NOT HER IDEA'

The Masons were represented by Attorney C. F. Creedman, who told the court that Mason has been unable to work steadily because of a heart condition. He said Mrs. Mason had been ill due to an injury.

Attorney R. W. Lett, representing Mrs. Church, said making the pictures "was not her idea." Lett said "the idea was sold to her" and she "was taken advantage of."

He said her four-year-old son needed her, that she was ill, and in need of an operation.

Court records show that Mason in 1930 pleaded guilty to auto theft and was given a bench parole in common pleas court. The two women do not have records.

Water Shorts Phone Cable; Six-Square Block Silenced

An entire block in the business district and a six-square block area between Diamond and Adams street were without telephone service today when water seeped into a cable after it was accidentally cut by city water department workers.

C. L. Lisle of the Mansfield Telephone company, reported that while workmen were fixing a water leak in front of the DeSoto hotel on Saturday a pneumatic hammer slipped and damaged the telephone cable.

He said the damage was temporarily repaired, but that last night's heavy rain shorted the wires.

"Repairmen are working on the break," Lisle said at noon. "We hope to have all the telephones back in operation by 1 or 2 p. m."

The area affected by the break was the block bounded by Diamond, Main, North Park and Third streets. The area between Diamond and Adams and north from Park avenue east to Sixth street was also without phone service this morning.

Meat Strike Break Hoped

Outwardly there was little change in the situation. United Packinghouse Union pickets still patrolled the struck plants. They asserted after two months the strike remained 100 per cent effective. The companies on the other hand, insisted their operations are virtually normal.

But on both sides there was the expressed feeling some new action could be expected. A union committee yesterday reviewed the strike situation and ordered wage talks resumed "immediately."

There was no indication the union had prepared an offer to replace its 29-cent wage demand. But a spokesman said, "it wouldn't be much use in just reviewing ground we've been over time and time again." He declined to confirm or deny the existence of a new wage proposal.

It has been wages that has kept the disputants apart. The companies have stood pat on their offer of nine cents an hour. An industry spokesman indicated that still would have to be the basis of settlement "with possibly some face saving gestures thrown in."

Register Looted As Gasoline Flows

Theft of $20 from the cash register at the Hi-Speed service station, 200 West Fourth street, was reported to police yesterday by Lloyd Marshman, manager.

Marshman told officers he believed the money was taken as an attendant waited on a customer.

Police also investigated an attempted burglary of the Latterner Neighborhood store, 188 Glessner avenue, early Sunday. Mearl W. Latterner, owner of the store, told police he found a cellar window on the left side of the store broken. Police said no entry was gained.

Heifer Stolen

G. B. Ray, Little Washington, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday the theft of a 100-pound yearling heifer, valued at $100. Ray told deputies the white-faced animal was taken from a pasture about two miles from his home.

Dems Guided By Lausche

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Frank J. Lausche, who spurned the Democratic state organization while governor in 1945-46, today was scheduled to climb in the driver's seat of the party which he hopes will again elect him as the state's chief executive.

Supporters of Lausche were to be tapped to take over the Democratic organization at the meeting here for the newly-elected Democratic state central committee.

Eugene H. Hanhart, Dover, 16th district committeeman and one of Lausche's closest aides, apparently was assured election as chairman of the central committee. He reportedly will be supported by present Chairman Albert A. Horstman of Dayton.

Horstman's term expires when he calls the central committee to order and he has told Lausche spokesmen and his friends that he will not seek re-election. Horstman, also national committeeman, had given personal support to Ray T. Miller, Lausche's primary opponent.

Joe Objects To Elevator

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The department of public works today began construction of an elevator in the state house, despite State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's injunction. The contractor started on the fourth floor.

Ferguson's office is on the second floor. The court order he obtained Saturday prohibits the use of any part of his office for the elevator.

The auditor contends he needs the space and the work would interfere with his office operations.

Rev. Stacy Resigns Post

LUCAS—Rev. C. B. A. Stacy, pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran church, east of Lucas, and St. Michael's Lutheran church in Mifflin, yesterday told his congregations that he had received a call from the New Springfield Lutheran church and announced his resignation effective July 1.

Councils of the two churches will meet Wednesday night in the parsonage to act on the resignation.

Rev. and Mrs. Stacy and their four children came here from Dayton 10 years ago.

He is the third pastor to resign here in the past month. Rev. Ralph Chapman of the Lucas and Little Washington Congregational church will leave here June 1. Rev. Paul Buchholtz of St. Paul's and Pleasant Valley Lutheran churches will leave as soon as a successor can be found for him.

Car Overturns, Driver Injured

Lewis Hoye, Ashland R. D. 4, was treated for cuts and abrasions at General hospital last night and released after being injured when his car turned over on wet pavement on U. S. Route 30.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred at 9 p. m. three miles east of Mansfield.

Senior High Students Present Program; Little Flower Girls Conduct Dedication Ceremony.

THE Katherine Aberle Missionary Guild of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church gave its annual mother and daughter tea Sunday afternoon in the church.

E. L. Heasley, Mansfield Senior high school dramatic instructor, opened the program when he presented a one-act playlet, "Old Fashioned Mother." Members of the sophomore class portrayed the following characters:

Jack Dickson presented two vocal numbers, "Mother of Mine" and "To Mother". The second selection was dedicated to all the mothers present. Miss Martha Shiplet accompanied Mr. Dickson at the piano. They both are students of A. L. Derr.

Two little flower girls were Iris Stahlheber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stahlheber, 255 Boland road, and Cheryl Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nicholas, Wooster road.

The children were dressed in identically fashioned dresses of crisp organdy. One was in pink and the other in yellow and they wore bonnets which matched their dresses. Each carried a flower basket which had formed several bouquets around the room and placed them on the altar. They were dedicated to the memories of all deceased mothers.

This ceremony was followed by prayer by the Rev. J. C. Melchert.

Bouquets of pink and yellow carnations were given to the oldest mother present, Mrs. Bertha McLaughlin, 75, and to the youngest, Mrs. J. E. Brightbill, 20.

Mrs. Frank May and Mrs. William McBride presided at the serving table. It was covered with a pink cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and yellow spring blossoms with birds and ornaments placed among the flowers. Yellow candles completed the appointments. The centerpiece was made by Mrs. Chester Swank. The guests were led to the serving table by Mrs. Melchert.

The pink and yellow theme was used in the programs which had silhouettes of a mother and daughter on the cover of each. Mrs. John Hill served as general chairman for the party.

Mrs. Robert Eilenfield, Rembrandt street, will entertain the guild at its next meeting May 24 at 8 p. m.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, MAY 17, 1948

Unfortunately, all the ideas in Washington aren't capital ideas.

Then there is the Texas bathing beach which welcomes visitors with the sign: "A Coat of Tan Is Yours for the Basking."

Cooperative Spirit Might Help

SEN. WAYNE MORSE of Oregon has introduced a bill for more drastic reorganization of the top administration of the military services, in the interests of unity and team work.

His proposal is to abolish the departments of Army, Navy and Air, which now have independent status, although technically subordinate to the Department of Defense. Top civilian heads of the separate services, instead of holding the rank of secretary as at present, would be assistants to the secretary of defense.

The attempt to achieve unity by superimposing the Department of Defense over three independent service departments probably has not yet had a fair trial. Up to now the plan does not seem to have brought much unity among the services. The public squabble over the size of the air force revealed clearly that the Department of Defense is not yet trusted by congress to do any planning. Neither was it able to exert enough authority to hold the supposedly subordinate service departments in line.

The matter needs further study, and perhaps new action by congress. A spirit of co-operation instead of competition might help also.

For Lesser Air Hazards

THE AIRCRAFT industry, which through its progressive stages of development has demanded more and more highly explosive fuels for its engines, now is looking for a fuel of the other extreme, one which can be exploded or burned only with the greatest difficulty. The idea is to reduce the fire hazard in flying.

Aircraft accidents almost always are followed by fire, because the gasoline vapor is ignited easily by the tiniest spark, and the lubricants and hydraulic fluids used on the craft also burn readily. It is believed that half the victims of airplane accidents survive the original crash, but die in the fire that follows. In some cases fire has come first, and has caused planes to crash.

Perfection of a non-inflammable hydraulic fluid is believed near. Motor fuels have been developed which will burn or explode only after being heated and compressed, but new engines would be needed to use them. The quest for a practical non-burning lubricant still goes on.

If these research projects are successful, the fear of fire may be removed from the minds of flight crews.

More Efficiency For Religion

PROTESTANTS in the United States, and some in Canada, are uniting to form what will be a tremendously large body of Christians, the National Council of Churches of Christ in America. The plan of union, drafted several years ago and long studied, is now being put before the groups concerned for final approval. The merger involves eight mighty inter-church groups. The largest is the Federal Council of Churches of Christ, representing churches with a membership of 27 millions.

Chairman of the executive committee working for the merger is Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean of Yale Divinity school, who says the union will in no way interfere with denominational forms, doctrines or beliefs. Its purposes are avoidance of duplication in religious work and increased efficiency in all areas in which the churches are mutually interested.

Under the merger the church groups will work together in those fields in which they have common interest. It may be expected that such co-operation will in time discover new and broader fields of common interest.

Stirs Trouble After 34 Centuries

BEAUTIFUL Queen Nefertete charmed the Germans as much as she did the Egyptians over whom she ruled in the 14th century B.C. So when German archaeologists unearthed her statue in 1912, they smuggled it out of Egypt and took it to Berlin. When bombing threatened Nefertete's safety in World War II, she was moved to the small museum of Wiesbaden, near the Rhine, in what is now the American zone. The Egyptians heard of her new home, and begged Uncle Sam to return her to her native Egypt, saying that archaeological treasures belonged to the country where they were found, and not to the nation which dug them up.

Our government has just refused this request, on the ground that we are not concerned with the acts of the German government before 1939. If the Egyptians want redress and Nefertete, they will have to apply to the German government when this is established.

As this has not yet been done and no one knows when it will be, Queen Nefertete will remain indefinitely far from her beloved Nile, on the banks of what she would have considered the bleak and barbarous Rhine.

Arabs Clash Among Themselves

THIS TRAGIC Arab-Jewish war, which has been allowed to develop through the failure of world statesmanship to carry out its stewardship, poses many speculative problems for those trying to foresee the outcome.

Barring success in the new mediation which the United Nations is undertaking, the conflict bids fair in the long run to produce a decision in the old feud between these two races. At its worst it could be fought to a bloody finish which would leave the defeated side knocked out and the victor in possession of the entire Holy Land.

However, while we must be prepared for the worst—and even for the terrors of a Holy War—I don't think we need to regard this as inevitable, the way the signs now read. There are several other possibilities, among which are these:

1. The extent of the invasion of Palestine by the troops of neighboring Arab nations is by no means certain. The Arabs are not a wholly united race. There are many acute differences among the various nations, and some of the greatest clashes revolve about the reported ambitions of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan to extend his domain and power.

This being so, there is always the possibility that the joint invasion might peter out, especially since the Jews have the biggest active army in the Middle East.

2. Some observers feel that there is a chance King Abdullah might set up a government in that part of Palestine not claimed by the Jews. Then would follow an uneasy truce, and ultimately the Arabs and Jews would get together and agree on a division of the Holy Land into two nations.

* * *

Jews Have Good Army.

3. The invading Arabs might surround the new Israel and then settle down to long drawn out guerrilla tactics which would be calculated to create an economic pressure to put the Jewish government out of commission. However, this scheme would seem to involve a lot of wishful thinking, since it is premised on the far-fetched idea that the Jewish people of America and other countries would get tired of maintaining the Jewish state under such adverse circumstances.

Despite the fact that the Jews are surrounded by hostile Arab nations which theoretically could produce an overwhelming force of fighting men, the present prospects of the Jewish state are regarded by many military observers as good. The Jewish army is said to total fifty thousand or more of trained men who are fairly well equipped with materiel and small arms. It will take a powerful attacking force to beat them.

The Arabs, on the other hand, are attacking under difficulties. As this column pointed out earlier in the week, their problem of supplying their armies will be great. Not only are their lines of communication long, but they run through much desert country and other difficult terrain. So taking it all in all, the Jews have much justification for the optimism they are displaying.

America's prompt recognition of their new government should strengthen the Jews' position greatly.

There remains one other grave possibility. Should the Jewish-Arab warfare be bitter and protracted, there must always exist the danger that another world war might develop from it. The great powers have vast interests in the strategic Middle East, and are bound to defend them against aggression. A clash in those interests might strike fire.

Washington Calling

Dewey's Oregon Campaign

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Nothing quite like the primary campaign in Oregon has ever been seen in American politics. The outcome may well determine what the Republicans do at their convention in Philadelphia a month from now.

Consider what an extraordinary spectacle it is. Thomas E. Dewey, governor of the richest and most populous state in the union, is making a crossroads, barnstorming campaign that includes more than 90 speeches as well as appearances at 165 meetings. He is visiting towns as small as sweet home, population 1,090, and Brownsville, population 784.

Reports from Oregon indicate that the people of that state are flattered at this attention. That the governor of the empire state, with 47 electoral votes, should shake hands with voters at a crossroads filling station in a state with 6 electoral votes is something that has not happened before and is not likely to happen soon again.

Shortly before he left Albany, Dewey called on the long-distance phone a westerner with a broad understanding of Oregon politics. The governor was frankly seeking advice and for 35 minutes he got it. The advice went something like this:

"The opposition has convinced folks in Oregon that you're a cold fish—that you're a steely-eyed prosecutor. Your only chance to overcome Stassen's lead is to show the people that you can get down to earth and fight it out. You've got to get your hair mussed up and get a little dirt on your hands."

That is exactly what Dewey is doing. He is striding into coffee shops, hamburger stands, barber shops and schoolhouses. As Richard L. Neuberger put it in one of his revealing dispatches on the campaign, Dewey is seeing more of the state than any tourist since the explorers Lewis and Clark.

Before he went into Oregon, Dewey also had the benefit of a significant public-opinion poll. On April 30, the Portland Oregonian published the results of a statewide poll showing that senator Wayne Morse, Oregon's liberal senator, rated higher than the conservative Senator Guy Cordon. Both are Republicans.

Fifty-four percent of those asked thought Morse had done a "good job," while 37 percent expressed this opinion of Cordon. Of those interviewed, 90 out of 100 had heard of Morse, who has made a national reputation for himself in his three years in the senate, while 74 out of every 100 had heard of Cordon.

Morse, whose forthright liberalism has made him a more or less isolated figure among Republicans in the senate, officially declared his neutrality in the Dewey-Stassen contest. For four years at the University of Minnesota, Stassen was Forse's pupil, particularly in debate and in the handling of questions in open forum. Ralph Moores, who was Morse's campaign manager in his senate race, is now Dewey's campaign manager.

Clash On Communism

Those who write Dewey off as an opportunist see in the liberalism of his Oregon campaign no more than his customary expediency. They see him as making a desperate last try for a prize that only a few months ago he believed was his for the asking.

The fact remains, however, that he is vigorously fighting Stassen's proposal to outlaw the communist party. Furthermore, the evidence would indicate that Stassen has the popular side of this argument.

In his speeches, the former Minnesota governor gets a hand when he expresses his conviction that a law is necessary to curb communism. This reflects the average American's trusting belief that all you have to do to cure an evil is to pass a law.

In contrast Dewey has been speaking, in language of great simplicity, and directness, of the threat to fundamental freedoms in any attempt to curb men's opinion by statute. Stassen talks of the number of communist organizations listed in the New York City telephone directory and of how New York is the communist center of the country.

There are signs that Dewey's campaign is winning support. Ten days ago cigar stores in Oregon were offering 5 to 3 on Stassen to win the primary contest. This has narrowed to 5 to 4 as day after day, in a chartered bus, Dewey and his party cruise the mountains and the beautiful fertile valleys of the state that has 6 electoral votes. On May 21 the voters of Oregon may decide who is to be the next president of the United States or, in any event, they may decide who is not to occupy that exalted office.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Another Kind of Pearl Harbor

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—U.S. defense chiefs haven't said so publicly, but one reason they have been so energetic in urging heavy rearmament is the fear of another Pearl Harbor. Vividly remembering how General Marshall was out horseback riding the morning of Pearl Harbor, they don't want to be caught again.

This is understandable.

However, there is another kind of Pearl Harbor which may hit the USA this time. And U.S. defense chiefs will be just as guilty of neglect if they are caught napping.

The most important, neglected chapter of war-prevention today is psychological warfare. You can call this propaganda, softening-the-enemy-from-the-rear, or just plain winning friends. But the real fact is that this job of selling ideas, of making the people of another country believe in you, of winning the Russian people over to the USA, has become almost the most important phase of modern peace and modern warfare.

Actually it boils down to the art of making it difficult for the 14 men in the Kremlin to declare war by persuading the Russian people that they themselves don't want war. At present, the Kremlin can take Russia into war overnight and the people have nothing to say about it. That is why the present impasse with Russia is so dangerous.

Meanwhile, psychological warfare has been woefully neglected. It has been neglected partly because a Republican Congress slashed the funds of the State Department's propaganda division; partly because the State Department itself has lacked resourcefulness and vision.

Note—Today, an A-1 man, George Allen, has taken over this division, but he is still short of cash and barely had a chance to get started.

* * *

Russians Get Hopes Up.

Most significant reaction to the Molotov note-exchange was the way the Russian people gobbled up the newspapers that morning. The newsstands were cleaned out. The news bulletin boards had more eager spectators than ever.

In other words, peaceful negotiations with theUnited States was hot, burning news. People ate it up. In other words also, the Russian people don't want war. And if you look over the devastation of their country, you can readily see why not.

However, now that we have slapped the Russians down with statements that we don't want to talk over our problems, the job of psychological warfare becomes all the more important. You can imagine what the Moscow propaganda machine will do with the Truman-Marshall statements discouraging a conference with the Russians. They'll say: "We told you so. You see, the Americans don't want to talk peace. They're only interested in war."

* * *

Cold War In Italy.

Last month several thousand Americans pitched in to send friendly messages to the Italian people on the eve of their election. It was the greatest demonstration of "psychological warfare" the world has ever seen.

Actually "psychological warfare" is the wrong term, unless you think in terms of the cold war. But anyway it was a case where Americans wrote several million letters to Italy, sent short-wave radio broadcasts to Italy, got up a special message signed by prominent citizens to the Italian people.

It was a case where the American people and the American Government pulled together, with results highly gratifying to all.

During that election and since, a Make-Democracy-Live contest has been conducted by short-wave radio to the Italian people, in cooperation with the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, the Voice of America, and a dozen or so patriotic businessmen who have contributed prizes. Italian essays on making democracy live have been pouring in at the rate of several thousand a week.

When this column recently proposed a similar friendship propaganda drive to win over the Russian people, all sorts of Americans volunteered to cooperate. F. W. Danner, a printer of Akron, Ohio, patriotically volunteered to print free, a million copies of any propaganda message to be sent the Russian people.

The United States Time Corporation also volunteered a large number of Ingersoll Mickey Mouse watches to go along with any propaganda messages to Russia. The Harman Watch Company has offered the same. The Schutter Candy Company of Chicago volunteered a million candy bars, while John Paul Jones of Franklin, Pa., offered 1,200 pounds of candy.

In Germany, after V-E Day, the Russians went wild over wrist watches, especially Mickey Mouse watches. In Austria, large numbers of the Red Army have deserted—largely because they have come to realize the benefits of western civilization. Even Austria, war-torn and tawdry as it is right now, looks a lot better than Russian communism.

* * *

Penetrating the Curtain.

So one of our problems is to let the Russian people realize that our much-criticized capitalism has a lot of advantages they don't know about, and second, that we're not anxious to ram anything down any nation's throat—except peace.

And is some wrist watches, or Sears-Roebuck catalogues, or candy or some other kind of propaganda dropped over or smuggled into Russia would help, let's try it. It may be a small step, but at least it's a step in the right direction—and better than sitting on our hands.

And if the State Department is sitting on its hands because it's hamstrung for propaganda funds, I know a lot of Americans who will gladly contribute or cooperate in every way possible.

Assignment: America

'Little Guy' Knows Score

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—The thinking ability of the so-called man-on-the-street seems to catch an awful lot of smart-aleck kicking around nowadays.

High-powered books have been written by certain parties who pass themselves off as intellectuals, quote-unquote, showing all the reasons why this much-discussed man always is a sucker for propaganda. High-priced lecturers go to great length to show how average people must be led down the proper pathway of political education and the like.

Then, all of a sudden, the poor chump up and does it—and quite often he does it by doping out a really tough one which has all the brainy boys still in a tizzy.

That's the way it was with this Russian so-called "peace bid" last week. While all the big wheels in Washington (and elsewhere, apparently) were spinning telephone dials like crazy, trying to find somebody who knew something about what it meant, the man-on-the-street figured it out, and went quietly on about his business.

I know, because at an editor's suggestion I went out and interviewed him for several hours, and then—still intrigued, after reporting what reactions I received—went out and interviewed him some more.

* * *

Excited Big Shots.

At the time, as you recall it was the big news of the day, and all the big shots were pretty excited about it.

Of course, the administrative and legislative leaders here and in Europe sometimes differed as to exactly what it meant, but they all seemed to agree that it was mighty, mighty important — and probably would develop into more important news in succeeding days.

But curiously, just prior to writing this, I carefully checked seven New York and Washington newspapers without finding a single line about the "peace bid"—except one editorial page cartoon, and one short item of two paragraphs reporting some delayed Russian reaction to our reaction to their initial reaction, etc. etc...

Now, in contrast to the excitement among the brainy boys, these were the two chief reactions among the many men-on-the-street with whom I talked:

1—Fine, if it's true, but it's probably a Russian trick to pretend like they're being peaceful by agreeing to a "peace" conference at which they won't agree to anything. Nothing to get excited about.

2 — Fine, if it's true, but it probably just means the Russians are trying to slow down our rearmament legislation by pulling in their horns for the moment. It's good news because it may mean that they aren't ready to fight just yet, but still nothing to get excited about.

There were variations to those themes, of course, but that's how the majority went. Taxi-driver Richard Reid, a marine combat veteran, summed up the first point of view thusly:

"It would be fine, of course, but from what we've seen of the Russians, the only things ever settled at such conferences is their way. Sounds to me like they're just trying to convince somebody that they're really more peaceable than us—without actually doing anything about it. Or maybe they figure most Americans want peace badly enough that Russia could write her own terms at such a conference."

He didn't figure we'd be "sucked in" by such a trick, so he didn't think the news of the Russian announcement amounted to much . . .

Epitomizing the second point of view was barber Thomas Butler who has been holding forth in the House of Representatives tonsorial emporium for some twenty years.

"If it means anything," he said, "it probably means they've gotten a little worried about our U.M.T. and draft bills and this plan to build a big air force. Probably they figure if they talk like peaceful people now, we'll relax and drop all that business. But if we go ahead and re-arm — build a big army and navy and air force — they'll do more than talk peace. They'll start acting peacefully!"

But in any case, he didn't think this conference talk amounted to much . . .

Forty-eight hours later, everybody pretty much agreed. The story vanished from the front pages and the newscasts, largely labeled either a trick or a Russian feint which failed to fool the democracies.

Farmer's Diary

From the Sidlines

By CALVIN A. BYERS

Last year was wet. We planted soybeans very late, and they did not mature in time to harvest—although some beans were there when the frost came. This year, the oldest boy plowed early, and said he had never seen the soil so loose, or the fishing worms so plentiful. Our experience has been that wherever organic matter in the form of decayed vegetation is present, worms multiply. We have seen it in the cob mulch about the fruit trees, and in the fields where rye was plowed under. The population of the soil—worms and bacteria—seems waiting for warmth and food. Unless something kills it, the soil, most everywhere will be much alive.

Those soys that went to waste served a good purpose anyhow. Their roots stored nitrogen from the air, their leaves and seeds furnished natural food for worms and bacteria. We anticipate a good growth of corn in that field this year.

Upon our garden we spread a white layer of phosphate rock. The boys improvised their own tool—a toboggan-like drag made of two pieces of old metal roofing blown off by a storm, long ago. Side by side, the two sheets made a sled that would haul bags of rock dust, seeds or several wheelbarrow loads of manure or compost. Also it comes handy for hauling off rocks or moving dirt. Even boyish muscles can roll heavy rocks onto a flat surface of this kind, and the tractor can pull both load and boys over grass or smooth dirt, anywhere on the farm. It's work—and fun besides.

I sat in the sun, on the compost heap, and watched while the family worked. It was hard to do, but it might have been worse. I was finally allowed to scatter the seeds in three rows of peas.

From the nearness of the sound of the B and O railroad across the ridge, we knew it would rain. But the cornfield was planted, and early garden beds sowed to lettuce, radishes, peas, beets and onions before it began in earnest.

In a few more days strawberry plants will be in—a small patch this time—and the trees that are needed to fill in the few empty spaces upon the slope. While I slept, one day, the whole family managed to set out two long rows of raspberries.

Sleep does wonders . . . I shall try to do more of it, after this. Talk less, sleep more, that's my motto!

Defends Mundt Bill Condemnation

Editor, Mansfield News-Journal:

The Executive Board of UE Local 758 takes exception to your editorial of Wednesday, May 12, wherein you cast reflections on the judgment of the Local's action in condemning the Mundt bill, and advised the membership of UE 758 to "check the company they keep" . . .

Now then in answer to your suggestion that "we check the company we keep" we wish to give you just a small idea, due to the limits of this letter, on our company. Those having taken similar action are the United Steel Workers, National CIO, Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, NAACP, Chicago Sun-Times, N. Y. Post, Washington Post, National Council of NMU, Henry Wallace, Glen Taylor, 167 of the nations top artists, writers, scientists, clergymen, Senator Taft (not to be mistaken for an endorsement of the Senator) New York Mayor O'Dwyer, Detroit Probate Judge Patrick H. O'Brien, Dr. Harry F. Ward and so on into the thousands of Americans who will agree with the N Y. Post that "No decent American could come near it without protecting his nose with a clothespin."

We strongly object to your type of editorial where you infer that because communists are against the bill and that the penalties and punishment of the bill are aimed at "persons who attempt to establish in the U. S. a totalitarian dictatorship under foreign control", it can't be such a bad bill. Creating this impression, either wilfully or by accident is exactly what we are fighting. The misleading of the people into the false belief that this is the entire and main object of this bill, thereby minimizing the peoples natural reaction to fight against it.

We ask you to tell the people the true facts of this bill. How it destroys the Bill of Rights and substitutes the police State. It has rightfully been called the entry of "legalized fascism" into the United States.

Executive Board, UE Local 758

By ART WERNICK,
Business Agent

(Editor's Note: Because of space limitations, it has been necessary to delete two portions of the above letter. The first explained that only the Ohio Brass unit of Local 758 has formally condemned the Mundt bill. The second portion cited Congressman Mundt's record in support of a statement that "he has fought every measure to help the people".)

'Men of Erie' Contest For Pupils Opens

Redfield's proposed route followed rather closely the present main line of Erie, and his remarkable plan, once printed and distributed, attracted wide attention. Slowly, but surely, the ambitious Erie railroad scheme came into being.

The first of many "railroad conventions" along the projected route was at Monticello in Sullivan county. Three months later, another was held at Jones Tavern, Jamestown, in Chautauqua county. It was in this meeting that the precedent for stormy sessions was set for the Erie. The original bone of contention was jealousy of the towns which were benefitting by increased trade, due to the Erie Canal. The canny men of the Southern Tier of Counties would have nothing to do with any town which was served by the Canal. Buffalo, now an important terminal of Erie, was then regarded with jaundiced eyes. A political ring in Albany was protecting the water way.

This was so true, that President Andrew Jackson, who had been asked for federal fund, to aid Erie Railway construction, rescinded favorable legislation for an amazingly blunt reason. He said that he had been informed by a member of the "canal ring" in the state capital that such a road would compete with the canal "thus making it impossible to manage the politics of the state as well as they are managed now."

The most important of the early "conventions" met on December 20, 1831. Delegates came from all the Southern Tier counties from Broome to Chautauqua, 85 all told in addition to some guests invited from New York City. This so called Southern Tier is composed of that row of counties on the Pennsylvania border. The struggle at this meeting resulted in real progress.

Philip Church was the patron saint of the Genessee valley. He was in charge of the big meeting at Owego, out of which the Erie was born. The delegates were called to order in comparative serenity, but the aura of peace was short lived. The majority of those present wanted two corporations to build the Erie; one in the East and the other in the West. Church wished otherwise, and had the loyal support of delegate Marvin of Chautauqua.

Seemingly making no headway against the dominant majority, Church forthwith resigned and left the hall. The entire convention was in a state of confusion when a letter from Eleazar Lord arrived. It was filled with hard sense, and supported the idea of having one charter embrace the entire road through to Lake Erie. That letter finally compelled the Owego Convention to agree with Church.

On July 19, 1833, under moderated legislation, the Erie officially was organized. The officers were elected, with Eleazar Lord as the first president.

Despite its radiant beauty, the country beyond Orange county was all but poverty-stricken. At that time (1834) there was not one town on the line of the proposed New York and Erie with a population of more than 3,000 persons. Because of the rough route, the directors claimed, "it is to be considered that a railway for horses on the route in view would be superior . . . to any existing or probable means of communication . . ."

This was the beginning of railroading in America, and although there were short lines in New England, the New York and Erie was by far the most ambitious. Still, there was little precedent on which to build. When Benjamin Wright, who was employed to map out a route completed his survey, he estimated the cost of the road, of single track construction for 483 miles from Piermont-on-Hudson to Lake Erie, at $4 726,260. His figure included grading the roadbed at the outset for a double track the entire length, as well as double tracking the bridges. However the bridges were to be only 18 feet wide, for Wright said, "I did not think so much weight as two trains of loaded cars, passing different ways, should be permitted to pass on a bridge at the same time."

Financial difficulties which beleagured the dream of the Erie postponed the first breaking of ground. In the wave of discontent, Eleazar Lord resigned as president, and James Gore King took his place. King was a New York banker, and the Southern Tier, under Philip Church, distrusted him. Church felt that if the New York and Erie were too hard pressed, it would not complete the entire line, but go to Rochester and there connect with the canal. He said bluntly that he refused to become a party to selling out the westernmost counties of the state in this cavalier fashion.

The fundamental rightness of this position was shown when the New York and Erie finally announced that, come hell or high water, it would stick by its original plan of building all the way from Piedmont to Dunkirk on Lake Erie, with only slight deviations from the Wright survey. The dream of the railroad was on the upswing in the fall of 1835, and sufficient money was subscribed to make possible the shift from concept to practicalities. Preparations were made for the immediate breaking of ground for the new enterprise.

The on-line towns were most interested, and had fought hard against the Canal Rung in Albany. For this reason, the little town of Deposit, N. Y. was chosen for the opening ceremony. On November 7, 1835 the Erie was born.

Paint New Standpipe

BUCYRUS — Painting of the city's new 500 000 gallon water standpipe started Saturday, will bring to completion a $90,000 city water project on which construction started in January.

Painters working on scaffoldings underneath the tank, the highest structure in the city, were coating the tank with an aluminum surface Saturday continuing their work on the bottom side of the tank in spite of the rain.

Since completion of the stand pipe, the grounds about the structure have been graded and seeded and an eight foot steel mesh fence has been erected about the base to discourage climbers.

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes."... That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money. (This is Message No. 36)

"Remember, dear—

HAPPINESS doesn't just happen!"

It takes sense as well as sentiment to make a marriage tick!

"BECAUSE you're in love, dear, you just know that you will be happy. I felt the same way when I married your father. But our happiness didn't just happen. It took work and planning—and more unselfishness than anything else in my life. The more you give to your marriage, the more you'll get. It's as simple as that!"

Perhaps the most important step for a married couple is to set their goals. Now that you're pulling together as a team, in what direction do you want to go? Do you want to have a nice home . . children . . travel? Talk it over. Decide what you want soon—and what you want in the long run. Then set out to get these things, through planning and saving . . . and loving cooperation. That's how dreams come true!

Who should be the boss?—Nobody should! Certain jobs will naturally fall to the wife; others to the husband. Where there's doubt, talk it over, and then decide what's fair. There should be no nagging about how the other does his or her work. Whenever new problems come up, or if big decisions must be made—always work them out together. "Bossing" is bad for any marriage.

"You see, darling, it's really all up to you!"

Who will handle the money?—That's important, thousands of marriages fail on money problems alone. Usually the cause isn't too little money—it's poor money management.

And that brings us right back to having definite goals. When you know what you want . . . and are saving for it . . there's far less confusion over who should spend what.

Expect the unexpected! Every family should prepare for the rainy days that come in everyone's life . . . and the sunny days, too. Then, when the time comes, you'll be ready to face any unexpected problem . . to take advantage of any long-hoped-for opportunity! Your marriage is sure to be different from what you thought it would be. But whether it will be better than you expected—that's up to you!

"That's how dreams come true..."

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

● Happiness in marriage depends a great deal on sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc. So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

$2,000,000 Atomic Lab Announced

Peacetime Uses Will Be Sought

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (UP) — Creation of a $2,000,000 research center to find peacetime uses for atomic energy was announced today by the University of Michigan.

President Alexander G. Ruthven said plans will be completed this summer to secure money for the war memorial "Phoenix project."

He added that it will be an ever-growing development, with contributions expected from alumni and other interested individuals.

The plan involves an academy, with special laboratories and work rooms and a memorial rotunda to be constructed. Scholars there will devote their full time to discovery of new beneficial uses for atomic energy.

Work will be concentrated on medicine and general science, instead of power and engineering.

"A functional memorial it will explore the beneficial aspects and implications of atomic energy with the same determination and enthusiasm as the Manhattan project explored the destructive aspects," Ruthven said.

Ruthven said the name "Phoenix" comes from the bird in the ancient Roman legend, which every 500 years was destroyed by fire and reborn, and symbolizes creation of the new from the old.

County Lifts Load Limits

Restrictions on the weight of trucks using Richland county highways have been removed, County Engineer Walter E. Rusk announced today.

The restrictions were placed in effect Feb. 20 because of winter thawing and excessive moisture that made the roads soft.

Limits for county roads were reduced 50 per cent and for state highways 25 per cent.

State laws set a limit of 6,750 pounds per axle for loads carried by vehicles with pneumatic tires and 6,000 pounds for those with solid tires.

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—The U. S. Air Force today identified 13 fliers killed in the crash of a B-29 Superfortress in Saudi Arabia last week.

They included: S/Sgt. W. R. McGaffick, gunner, Salem, Ohio, and S/Sgt. Chester Badowski, gunner, Cleveland, Ohio.

Strike Seen As Steel Aid

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Chrysler strike might loosen some steel for hard-pressed buyers if it lasts a while, the Magazine Steel reported today.

"The prospect of additional allocations of steel for certain industries and for defense purposes add uncertainties to the supply picture," the magazine said.

"Some of the pressure on supply could conceivably be lifted if the Chrysler strike continues sufficiently long that the company and its suppliers would temporarily curtail acceptance of steel shipments."

Steel production, back at 94½ per cent of capacity, still won't allow enough for everybody, however, Steel reported.

Industrial gas curtailments and the coal mine strike, for one thing, enforced reduced third quarter shipment quotas, the magazine said.

"Moreover," it said, "Steelmakers soon will experience additional production cutbacks as a result of vacation in the mills and possibly (another) coal miners' strike."

Knowland Confident

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said today he is confident Congress will knock down President Truman's veto and make law of his bill for FBI loyalty reports to Senators on atomic energy commissioners.

Government Fossil Hunters Active In Reservoir Areas

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Government fossil hunters are getting a glimpse of what life was like on this continent 60,000,000 years ago in the "dawn age."

Further digging now under way or being planned is expected to reveal a great deal more about the kinds of animals that dwelled in this part of the world along with dinosaurs, the Smithsonian institution reported today.

The Smithsonian has been engaged in a country-wide fossil hunt in areas which soon will be flooded by vast reservoir projects. Cooperating in the survey are the National Park service, the Bureau of Reclamation, and the army engineers.

"To date," the institution said, "there have been 94 such reconnaissance examinations in the Missouri drainage area (alone), where several locations appear highly promising for excavations."

The discovery which so far has given the Smithsonian diggers their biggest thrill was the fossil of a large soft-shelled turtle. It was found on the Big Horn river near Shoshone, Wyo.

"Remains of these creatures found in North America in the past have been quite fragmentary," the Smithsonian said. "This one, with a shell about three feet long, is in exceptionally well-preserved condition."

Husband Reports Wife Missing

Forty-seven year old Mrs. Pearl Baker was sought today by sheriff's deputies after being reported missing from her High street home since last Thursday.

When last seen the woman was wearing a black dress with flowered sleeves and black shoes. Mrs. Baker was described as five feet, eight inches tall and weighing 190 pounds.
